

Job Description

Head Gardener

Permanent full time role.

Borde Hill, Haywards Heath, West Sussex. RH16 1XP

About Borde Hill

Borde Hill (BH) is a magnificent Grade II* English Heritage listed Garden set within 383 acres of Parkland and Woodland.

Created in the early 1900's with plants gathered by the great plant hunters from their travels to the Himalayas, China, Burma, Tasmania, the Andes and North America, the Estate contains over 70 champion trees and 8,000 trees and shrubs listed by the Royal Botanic Gardens Kew. In addition to the living collection, Borde Hill also has an extensive plant archive which allows us to better understand the plant collection and social history to engage our visitors about 'the world in one garden'.

The Stephenson Clarke family have been custodians of Borde Hill for five generations, and are at a stage of generational change that is seeing new energy, opportunities and ideas aimed at broadening our visitor demographic and ensuring Borde Hill is sustainable for future generations. This includes new business initiatives of field to fork dining and the restoration of our walled kitchen garden, a biodynamic market garden and a rejuvenated family parkland offering with improved infrastructure, better horticultural interpretation and plant management, with a focus on climate change.

We are looking for a new Head Gardener who has horticultural expertise coupled with the ability to lead our Garden team, inspiring visitors through talks and tours, and engaging new audiences with content across our social media channels.

You and Your Role

You will play a key role in conserving and realizing the full horticultural potential of Borde Hill. We are looking for an individual who can support our journey to establish Borde Hill as one of the most distinctive visitor destinations in the country, with a coherent, inspiring brand, within which you will play a key role.

You will primarily be responsible for the day-to-day management and development of the Garden, whilst overseeing the wider team who work across our biodynamic Market Garden, Kitchen Garden, Parkland and woodland. We require a hands-on individual to inspire and lead the garden team from the front, showcasing best practice, motivation and a passion for plants. Over the next 12-18 months you will oversee, alongside your team, two exciting projects from design to completion; our reimagined Victorian Walled Kitchen Garden and our National Heritage Lottery Fund Project, 'Reinventing Borde Hill' in the South Park.

A key part of the role will be to curate and propagate our heritage plant collection, including our National Collection of Rhododendron, 70 TROBI Champion Trees and those historic living collections which directly relate to our rich horticultural archive. It is therefore important that you are not only passionate and knowledgeable regarding woody temperate plants, but also understand the heritage importance of these valuable collections and of safeguarding them for the future.
